Permit Volume Overview

San Francisco issued 2,187 building permits this month. The bulk of activity — 2,090 permits (95.6%) — consisted of over-the-counter alteration permits, which cover interior remodels, tenant improvements, and routine property upgrades. Structural additions and alterations accounted for another 54 permits (2.5%), while ground-up new construction represented 0 projects (0.0%) of total volume. Demolition activity stood at 1 permits this period.

Permit Type	Count	Share
OTC Alterations	2,090	95.6%
Additions / Alterations	54	2.5%
New Construction	0	0.0%
Signs	42	1.9%
Demolitions	1	0.0%

Project Valuation

The combined declared value of all permitted projects this month totaled $114.51 million, with an average project valuation of $52,478. San Francisco consistently ranks among the highest-cost construction markets in the country, reflecting both elevated material and labor costs. High declared valuations signal opportunity for contractors and trade specialists operating in premium markets.
